

ACK THE STUMP

The Readers Digest, I am told, carried a tale of a prominent dentist who was being interviewed on assumed matters relating to travel and what could be asked for "up there." The scientist was finally asked what he expected to find when he or his colleagues finally reached the moon. Without a moment's hesitation, he answered, "Russians."

Jack Pine, one of his moods, which is the real problem, is quite secondary to the great National and International situation and events. In that light, a should like to pass some comments on the unfortunate affair of President Nixon's being stood by alleged "students" in Lima, Peru. It should be borne in mind that this was a very isolated case of a group of left-wing students, and not an encouraging sign by much older "students" whose interest in the matter was considerably less academic than political. Secondly, students in all European and Latin American countries are encouraged, yes obligated, to study political science, a way of education which would also lead to so-called "riots" in this country. It occurred here, thirty, the same thing would happen to Nixon were he to preach integration in any one of our Georgia or Alabama towns. All of which leads to my main point. I am not a Communist, but I am a realist, and I believe in the political puttings of our Congressmen and Senators, claiming that A.L.I. Foreign Aid should be ceased forthwith, and that the people be put off on their own, and see how they would like it. Which, of course, is exactly what the dozen or so leaders of the Peru students want to do. Congressmen seem to have an unbridled feeling that all Communists are stupid, almost as stupid as a federal administration which advocated foreign aid. Thus, of course, these few fools who call the news will try to stop all foreign aid, which is just about as realistic as stopping all social security, federal health aid, road aid, etc., to the state of Arkansas because of the Little Rock incident last year.

Also, on the international scene, I read that the leading French fashion experts are laughing out loud at the American women who have fallen for the Sack, the Balloon, the Chemise and all the rest of the so-called "French" fashions. Seems that the French women wouldn't be caught dead in these awful creations. What's more, it is reported that the French fashion bosses are amused to see the American women who are duped into thinking something intrinsically became fashionable just because the French said it was. But all is not lost. The French fashion show is over, and the Big Joke this fall, and will go back to designing dresses with the modern woman in mind. That's the gist of the articles I read, anyway.

Today was Mother's Day, a day in which I found my own mother, my wife's mother and my child's mother. I am reminded to-day of a Mother's Day back in 1954. Friend Wife and I, with children, drove to California by car for a vacation. On the way, we stopped in Las Vegas, where we planned to gamble away a quarter full of change we had added for several months. But we didn't lose it, rather, we won and kept winning until the hour became late and we had to be on our way. Continuing on through Nevada, we played the slot machine wherever we stopped for the children's cries of "wa-wa" or "I want a drink." When we got to Minnesota, it was the day before Mother's Day, and we made great plans to take care of our Mother's with our winnings. Which we did, just where we were. One AM, just before going to sleep, I told Friend Wife that I had thought of everything with one important exception. I had done nothing at all about the kids' mother. And just where was one to go at that hour of the morning for a Mother's Day gift? Nowhere. So I kissed her good night, rolled over and went to sleep. She must have been impressed; she mentioned that one particular Mother's Day every so often. Can't understand why.

Jensen Plumbing To Move This Weekend

The Jensen Plumbing Service, now located on Peninsula Avenue, plans to reopen for business in their new store in the UpState Shopping Center on US-27 next Monday morning.

Don Jensen, the store's owner, said that the old store would be open for business all day on Saturday with the new store opening for business on Monday morning.

The move of equipment and supplies will be carried out on Saturday and Sunday. The new building will offer more space to display the many plumbing supplies, Mr. Jensen said.

Michigan National Guard Seeks Maximum Camp Attendance In '58

A campaign to promote maximum attendance at 1958 field training has been started by the Michigan National Guard. Major General George C. Moran, The Adjutant General of Michigan, initiated the drive by addressing personal letters to representatives of Chambers of Commerce in more than 50 communities supporting Guard units and to executives of trade associations. He has asked their assistance in advising employers of 1958 field training dates and of the need for adequate military leave policies. Nearly 13,000 Michigan Guardsmen are expected to attend two-week sessions at four major military installations and at home stations. Last year, Michigan Guardsmen achieved an overall field training attendance record of 97.55 per cent of assigned strength. In his letters General Moran stressed the importance of field training.

"This year, more than ever," he said, "maximum field training attendance is desired. Many of our units, with their required basic and individual training completed, will embark upon unit training. Absence of any member of a combat team will correspondingly reduce the effectiveness of the team."

Many employers already have established favorable military leave policies. Some provide military leave with full pay, in addition to regular paid vacation. Others make up the difference between the employee's pay and his National Guard pay, in addition to regular paid vacation. Still others grant two weeks' military leave without pay, in addition to regular paid vacation.

The 48th Infantry Division, less an anti-aircraft battalion, plus the Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 107th Ordnance Company, 139th Army Band and the 147th Engineer Company will train at Camp Grayling from August 9 to August 23. The March 31st strength of these units was 9,556, General Moran revealed.

Two Mother-Daughter Banquets Held

One hundred fifty mothers and daughters assembled at the Michel Memorial church Friday night to enjoy the annual mother and daughter banquet. The dinner was served at tables beautifully decorated with small fans of foil paper in many colors, covered with beads and sequins at each place. Large fans of all colors decorated the end of the dining room. Tiny nut cups made of spun sugar also in many colors helped to complete the festive appearance.

First on the program, introduced by toastmaster Mrs. Dale Pettengill, was the invocation, given by Mrs. R. C. Puffer. Next came the toast to the mothers, given by Miss Karen Gotthard. Mrs. Allan Stevenson responded. Recognition of the oldest mother present, Mrs. Celia Granger, the youngest mother, Mrs. Fritz Gollnick, and the mothers with the most daughters present, Mrs. Don Gothro, each with three, was made by presenting the ladies with a corsage of roses. Four generations of mothers present were recognized by toastmaster Mrs. Stevenson. Mrs. Ed Lovric, Mrs. Jack Church and daughters, Mrs. Ed Bowen also received a corsage for being part of a four generation group in the same family, being Mrs. Carl Larson, Mrs. George Vordach, Mrs. George Vordach, Mrs. Ed Bowen.

Forest Fire Blackens 500 Acres In County Monday

A raging forest fire blackened 500 acres in Crawford County last Monday while 15 power units and hundreds of fire fighters fought to contain it. The holocaust was finally subdued at a county road.

The blaze apparently started as a small grass fire near the Stephens Bridge Road about five miles south of M-72. Feeding its fury on slashings left from pulpwood operations the blaze grew into startling proportions. The billowing smoke clouds were easily visible in Grayling.

The blaze traveled southwest from the road and was finally stopped at a county road west of Egan, where it ran into smaller trees, and the road gave the fire battlers a base of operations.

There were 15 heavy duty power units called in on the blaze, including 12 from the Regional Office at Roscommon. They included Conservation units, U. S. Forest Service equipment, City of Grayling unit, a unit from Camp Grayling and several privately owned tractors which are hired for fire fighting when needed.

About 200 men fought the fire from equipment and right on the ground in the face of the ever advancing flames. They included National Guard personnel, high school students, private volunteers, inmates from Camps Leelanau and LeVivore, as well as Conservation Department men.

One heavy duty pumping unit from Roscommon stalled in the advancing front of the blaze and was destroyed. The City of Grayling 1,000 gallon pumper broke a terod on a stump but was quickly repaired by the operating personnel. A Grayling Conservation pumping unit had the flames roar over it but a spray of water put out saved the truck from too severe damage. Burned were Forest Fire Officer Kenneth Haines of Roscommon, driver of the doomed pumping unit and Kip Papendick, City of Grayling fireman. Both were treated at Grayling Mercy Hospital. A tractor and plow from the Grayling equipment station was also destroyed by the whipping flames as an all line broke, stalling the equipment.

It is the belief now of Conservation officials that the extreme heat of the fires are causing "vapor lock" in the fuel lines of the equipment. This in turn stalls the trucks or tractors. In most every case, the equipment (Continued on Page 4)

Five Injured In Car Crash

Five persons were injured and the driver arrested following a car crash on US-27 north of Grayling at Sand Hill Curve early last Thursday morning.

The driver, Clarence William Colter, 22, of Harrison, was arrested by State Police of the Grayling Post on a charge of reckless driving. The car was a 1957 Ford, a four-door sedan, and was traveling south on US-27 when it struck a guard rail and rolled over. The Colter car was headed south and after a State Police officer passed the car, it turned around to give chase. State Police estimated Colter's speed at around 90 miles per hour at the time of the crash.

Injured were the driver's wife, Loretta, 18, Louis Edward Hubbard, 22, Ruth Ann Hubbard, 17, Paul Colter, 2, and Alice Colter, 1, all of Harrison. All received lacerations, severe bruises and shock. All were treated at Grayling Mercy Hospital.

The driver, Clarence Colter, appeared before Justice of the Peace Olin Williamson later Thursday and entered a plea of guilty to the reckless driving charge. He was fined $25 plus $5.75 costs which he paid. The car was described as almost a complete loss.

SENATOR POTTER ASKS MORE DEFENSE WORK—Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles calls on Michigan Republican Senator Charles E. Potter in Washington to report on the new "set-aside" contracting program. Potter and nine other Senators representing labor surplus areas initiated the new contracting procedure as a means of stepping up business activity and providing more jobs in their states. Quarles predicted that Michigan's competitive position for a good portion of the $13 billions in defense contracts to be let by the end of June is "excellent."

Local Girl Honored In Bay City

A letter from Louis H. Bork, director of the Northeastern School of Commerce, Bay City, encloses a copy of the school's newspaper, "Northeastern Life," in which Miss Jean Marie Smith is written up as girl of the month. Miss Smith continues, "This young lady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Grayling, has done a fine piece of work scholastically during her two terms here, and we hope she can continue to keep up the fine record." Following is the article from the school paper:

OUR GIRL OF THE MONTH
According to recent statistics, a total of 1,258,010 people in the United States use the surname of Smith or some variation thereof, such as Smythe or Schmidt. This amounts to one out of every 135 people in the country.

Although this name may be common, the one Northeastern using this name is definitely an uncommon young lady. We're referring, of course, to our attractive, blond, blue-eyed Smith from Grayling—Jean Marie, to be exact.

Grayling's representative to NSC Secretarial classes graduated in 1957 and joined the NSC family in September, 1957. Jean owns up to the fact that it was primarily her aunt who persuaded her to attend NSC. "I was ready to take my chances on landing a job with just my high school training, but my aunt, who has an executive secretarial position in Alpena, showed me how her business college training had been so helpful in getting ahead in her work—and now I see where she was right." Jean is scheduled to graduate in November, 1958, but her knack for getting on the Honor Roll each term so far plus the enthusiasm she puts into her studies (I have no favorite class—I enjoy them all!) suggests an earlier completion date.

Although Jean has made no immediate plans for the future (no immediate change in surname anticipated either), she mentions a desire to work in Bay City after graduation. Since September she has been living at the Bay City YWCA and enjoying the many friendships she has made there.

More than likely our personable young Girl of the Month does not expect to join the ranks of better known Smiths—such as John, Al or Kate—but we're sure this young lass with the common moniker will make a "new name" for herself in some executive's office soon after graduation from Northeastern. Good luck, Jean!

G. H. S. Graduate At C.M.C. An "A" Student

An article in the "Central Michigan College Life" published weekly on the campus at Mt. Pleasant, gives varying points of view on being an A student, from two of Central's ten A students. One of them is Miss Carolyn Deyett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Deyett of Vermont, and Grayling High school graduate, 1954. Carolyn is a senior at Central this year. Following are excerpts from the "LIFE" article:

"Being an all-A student isn't nearly as important as partaking in the life of the school," according to Mrs. Mary Mishler, one of CMC's 10 A students. Mrs. Mishler, grandmother of 10, has had teaching experience in rural schools and is now a junior majoring in English and minoring in Speech and History.

Carolyn Deyett, senior English major, feels that being an A student enables one to "ride through" on his reputation. She said "students and instructors tend to look up to the A student." Mrs. Mishler feels there is no difference between the A student and the ordinary student.

opments in the nuclear science field have affected education, Mrs. Mishler said "the reaction hasn't come yet, but there is a general movement towards it." Miss Deyett said that education definitely has been affected by this development.

Mrs. Mishler, who has been out of high school 30 years, feels that high school preparation for college is very important, and that young people of today don't always realize how much they need what is being put before them.

Miss Deyett observed that some students who don't do much in high school get to college and find they have to settle down considerably.

Miss Deyett is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, works part time, and enjoys sports. Following graduation she will do resort work on Mackinac Island, and will begin a teaching position this fall in Garden City.

Spring Bouquets . . .

It is the month of May and trout season is open . . . it must be Spring and time for bouquets regardless of what the thermometer may say.

We think it is time that we all reflected on the work over the past few months of some of our citizens and the Avalanche at least would like to present each and every one of them a "spring bouquet" figuratively speaking. Those of whom we speak are: Eric Post, Bob Hayes, Dick Dubois, Alice Wood, Ann DuBois, Jerry Wolf, Madeline Smith, Fred Bear, Glen Day, Don Wood, and Jim Bourrie.

To some folks this might seem like a conglomerated list of names and the reason for bouquets to some of them or all of them might seem vague. Well, we are referring to the Winter Sports Carnival, the Trade Show, the Boat Show, the current promotion of the Business Association and the upcoming National Field Archery Tournament.

When we know that lots more people worked hard on these projects and deserve all of the credit in the world. But, most of the above named eleven men and women were tagged with that most dreaded of all titles — chairman. They are the ones who took the position of trust to see that each and every one of the before-mentioned events went off smoothly and successfully. The chairman is the organizer who sees that committees function . . . and remember, one whom everyone leans on and looks to for advice and help.

Some of these names appear prominently in more than one of these events. Take Eric Post, he was general chairman, both of the Winter Carnival and the Boat Show. Dick DuBois was active in the Boat Show and the Business Association's promotion. The four ladies mentioned, of course, made the Trade Show click. Bob Hayes was very active on the Boat Show committee, as he is on everything going on around the County. Jim Bourrie was co-chairman of the Business Association's car giveaway promotion and, of course, Don Wood is the Association's president and guiding force. We now come to Fred Bear who has exerted already a tremendous amount of time and energy to bring the big archery tournament to Grayling and who will be called upon for much more before the end of July arrives. Glen Day will be in charge of laying out and completing the 14 field target courses as well as some practice courses. This is a huge job but we know that Glen will turn in an excellent job.

It is the hard work, thinking and organizing of folks like these eleven people that make the many various promotions in Grayling "go" and it would not be out of order at all for everyone to tell them that their efforts are not going unappreciated. R. W. S.

State Government To Be Practiced By 360 Girls

Grayling Unit 108 of the American Legion Auxiliary has selected Kay Warner, and the Grayling Womans Club, Ann Stamp, both of Grayling to attend Girls' State to be held on the Campus of the University of Michigan June 17th to 26th.
Girls' State is a National Program of the American Legion Auxiliary. In these days of stress and unrest, Girls' State brings to the girls of today a knowledge of the fundamental principles of American government through actual practice. Wolverine Girls' State is limited to any girl in the Junior or this year in Senior High School. Three hundred sixty girls will be selected in Michigan to attend. At the conclusion of Girls' State, two girls will be chosen from the 360 girls to attend "Girls Nation" in Washington, D. C. where they will see the United States Government in operation.

Civic, Social, Fraternal and Patriotic organizations, as well as Posts of the American Legion and Units of the American Legion Auxiliary to sponsor girls. The fee is $37.50.
Selection to attend Girls' State is a high honor. The girl chosen is a potential leader, honest, industrious, and has a high sense of duty. Her physical condition should be such that she can actively participate in the athletic and fast moving program. It is usual to obtain from the Principal of the High School a list of Junior girls meeting qualifications. The girl is usually chosen from this list.
It is the hope of the American Legion Auxiliary that Girls' State will inspire and develop an interest in the study of our government foster civic leadership and stimulate a desire to protect the privileges and responsibilities of our Democratic form of government.

TODAY'S BEST BUY—TOMORROW'S BEST TRADE

You get more wagon for your money today... more money for your wagon tomorrow!

Any way you look at it, you can't find a better wagon buy than Plymouth! So big—it carries more, does more, provides more room for family fun. So beautiful—just look at those long, years-ahead lines. So economical—Plymouth is priced right in the low-price "3", yet you can't buy a bigger wagon at any price. And further proof: Plymouth beat every car in the low-price class in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run; Plymouth's second consecutive victory!

Get the biggest wagonload of value at a price far lower than you would expect. See your Plymouth dealer today.

FIVE BIG REASONS WHY YOUR NEXT WAGON SHOULD BE A PLYMOUTH

1. Biggest of the low-price "3". Big as wagons costing thousands of dollars more. You can't buy a bigger wagon at any price!
2. Holds so much more than the "other two". Over 7 cu. ft. extra passenger and cargo space. Optional "secret" luggage compartment available in 6-passenger models.
3. Rear-facing 3rd seat. Folds flush into floor. You don't store it outside when it's not in use. Easy to enter, has convenient back step.
4. Disappearing rear window. Rolls down into the one-piece tailgate. Doesn't jut out. Only on Plymouth wagons in the low-price "3".
5. Torsion-Aire Ride at no extra cost. Only Plymouth has it in the low-price "3". No sidesway on turns... no nose-dive on stops.

They don't come any bigger than Plymouth station wagons

SEN. POTTER REPORTS

From Washington

MICHIGAN WEEK was celebrated just as gaily in Washington as it was back home. The Sexton High School Band of Lansing opened our festivities with a concert on the steps of the United States Capitol. Noted sports commentator Harry Wismer was the guest speaker at a special gathering of Michigan State Alumni. The apple, bean, cherry and dairy queens beautified a Congressional breakfast planned by the Michigan State Society and the Michigan robin tweed, "IT'S GREAT TO LIVE IN MICHIGAN".

SOMETIMES it's a good idea to get out the telescope for a long-range view. Fast-acting recession pills, such as highway building and stepped-up military spending, are needed now. But no needed is a careful, well-thought-out plan to assist chronically depressed areas.

Forty of us have sponsored a measure of this type, called the Area Redevelopment Act. It has just been reported out of the Banking and Currency Committee and is ready to be taken up on the Senate floor.

Even in boom times islands of depression pop up in certain areas. Michigan is a case in point. If this excellent bill becomes law, it should help to gradually smooth out some of the unhealthy spots in the economy. Here's how: An Area Redevelopment Administration, headed by a Commissioner, would be created to administer a $300-million revolving fund. He could make loans for industrial and commercial projects in urban and rural communities.

He could tap another $75 millions for grants. While state and local groups would contribute to the projects, the federal share could go as high as 65%. Technical assistance and job retraining are part of the plan.

I believe this bill, which is the product of years of study and consultation with governors, mayors and private citizens in depressed areas, offers real hope. We must remember, of course, that it is not a quickie remedy. It recognizes that a program should be flexible and adaptable to the needs of city and farm, that the men and women in these depressed areas want a higher standard of living and want to share in building their communities.

Depressed areas are an expensive burden, one which the United States cannot afford to continue to carry. They absorb vast sums in unemployment compensation and relief payments. They produce far less than they could and should. They contribute little to the nation's output or to the local state and federal tax revenues. They are not good-paying customers for the rest of the country. While it distresses the taxpayers who must support the system, think how much more distressing it is to the men and women whose important skills are squandered. They are reduced to accepting unemployment compensation and public assistance and in some cases, watching their children travel down the path to juvenile delinquency.

The problem should be attacked at all levels of government and State authority never forgetting that by helping each area achieve a stable, thriving economic life, we are providing the kind of security which enables America's fathers and mothers to produce the good citizens and leaders of the future.

250,000 Fawns Born In State During Spring

ANN ARBOR — Almost a quarter of a million fawns are born each spring in Michigan in late May or early June, says Warren Chase, chairman of the Department of Wildlife Management at The University of Michigan.

"So explosive" is the increase that the deer population will be stepped up by approximately one-third within a period of a few weeks," he says. "Because of predators, accidents and diseases about 40 per cent will not survive their first summer, even so, each year there is a surplus of more than 100,000 deer that can be hunted."

"The fawn's early life consists of quiet resting, waiting for the next meal and brushing off insects. It will get up on its feet within one hour after its birth. Often it will remain standing for about five minutes, take a few steps and lie down again. This process may be repeated several times during the first few hours."

Generally, within an hour it will start to nurse while the mother is lying down. When the fawn is about 12 hours old it will nurse while its mother is standing. Twin fawns nearly always nurse at the same time. The milk, which is very rich, most closely resembles that of the reindeer.

The fawn seldom lies close to the mother but she always seems to know where she is. The animal never makes a sound unless caught, molested or lost. It makes a bleating sound similar to a young calf.

To avoid danger, the fawn lies close to the ground and depends on protective coloration. When hiding, it appears to be a small mound spotted by sunlight. It will remain still even though a man or a dog may pass within a few yards. For the first few days of life the fawn appears not to have any scent that will give its hiding place away.

"The rapidity with which a fawn grows out of its awkward insecure condition into its agile, graceful strength is a remarkable thing," says Professor Chase. "Its high tension springlike muscles are under perfect control. So quick is the woodland creature that when occasionally one must be taken for research purposes, it takes several men to capture it, and the work is very difficult if it isn't taken within the first week."

"A fawn has a complete covering of hair when born. The pure white spots — as many as 250 to 300 of them — are crowded against a bright reddish-tan background. In September the animal loses these spots and takes on its grey fall coat."

BEAT THE SLUMP! Support Your Local Places Of Business

The local business places listed below announce with this opening advertisement their plans for a series of five to appear in this newspaper for the next five weeks.

The purpose of the series is to tell the people of this trading area why they have faith in their hometown, the American economy and America's future.

There continues to be considerable talk about the so-called "recession" we are experiencing. The type of talk that is circulating tends to under-mine the confidence of the nation.

But there is another side to the picture and it must be told. These local businessmen and firms believe, that the best medium to get this side of the story to you, is through the pages of their hometown newspaper.

What can these business people tell you? They can answer these seven questions:

1. What is America's disposable income?
2. What is the average family's earning power?
3. How much have Americans saved?

4. What undermines faith in our economy?
5. What is America's greatest strength?
6. Where do we start the battle to keep America economically strong?
7. What can you do to help?

These are important questions and you will find the answers in the next four advertisements sponsored by your local business people and firms during the next four weeks. Watch for the next four:
